Indiana Secondary Institutions Not Offering Dual Credit

Based on the results of initial data compiled by the Concurrent Enrollment Partnership, it was believed that 125 Indiana High Schools did not offer any form of dual credit. Follow-up surveys of these 125 schools in February and March, 2009, found that currently:

- 63 high schools offer some form of dual credit programming
- 54 high schools do not offer any form of dual credit programming
- 7 high schools did not respond to the survey (as of 3/20/2009)

The following maps show the approximate locations of the 54 nonparticipating high schools and the 7 schools that have yet to respond to the survey. Public schools are indicated by the blue boxes, public charter schools are shown with green boxes, and non-public schools are shown with red boxes. For public schools, the percentage of students on free/reduced lunch programs are shown in parenthesis in the listings below the maps.
