

INDIANA DUAL CREDIT PROVIDER DIRECTORY: PROGRAMS FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO EARN COLLEGE CREDIT

CENTER OF EXCELLENCE IN LEADERSHIP OF LEARNING

1400 East Hanna Avenue
Indianapolis, IN 46227
<http://cell.uindy.edu/>

Version 1.2
July 15, 2009

This directory identifies opportunities for high school students to earn college credit in Indiana, to better inform high school administrators, counselors, and teachers who are exploring dual credit partnerships with higher education institutions and to identify additional opportunities for their students to earn college credit while still in high school.

CELL intends for the directory to be inclusive of many types of programs that offer the opportunity for high school students to earn college credit. Programs have been organized into six different categories:

- Concurrent Enrollment: A high school or career center teacher approved by a postsecondary institution offers a college course in the high school or career center classroom during (typically during the regularly scheduled school day) for which a student can earn both secondary and postsecondary credit. Four providers have received accreditation from the National Alliance of Concurrent Enrollment Programs: Indiana University – Bloomington, Indiana University South Bend, University of Southern Indiana, and Vincennes University.
- College Instructor at High School: A postsecondary instructor teaches a college course solely to high school students in the high school or career center classroom (typically during the regularly scheduled school day).
- On Campus Enrollment in Classes with College Students: A high school student attends a college course taught by a postsecondary instructor alongside traditional postsecondary students on a college campus (including satellite locations, such as evening classes in high school buildings).
- On Campus Enrollment in Classes Solely for High School Students: A postsecondary institution offers a course on the college campus specifically for high school students, taught by a postsecondary instructor (including Summer Bridge and Upward Bound programs where postsecondary credit is offered).
- Distance Education: A high school student participates in a distance education course for postsecondary credit, including online, videoconference, and correspondence courses (could be taught by a postsecondary instructor or secondary instructor approved by the postsecondary institution).
- Early College High School: High schools paired with a postsecondary institution that target students traditionally underrepresented in postsecondary education and allow them to simultaneously earn a high school diploma and an Associate's degree or up to two years of credit toward a Bachelor's degree. Only the three Endorsed Indiana Early College High School model sites are included at this time.

Institutions reported that they have programs under development are identified as such, as well as those without formal programs but have customized arrangements with a few schools or are willing to discuss customized arrangements with individual schools.

This directory includes all programs that CELL has identified as of July 15, 2009. Please send all additions, corrections, updates, and advice to Adam Lowe at 812-355-0409, alowe@uindy.edu, or by fax to 877-572-8693.
